

6th and 3rd Year Groups Contingency Teaching Plans

Teacher	How each teacher is communicating and teaching remotely	What teachers expect of students during the school closure in terms of interaction	Additional request to parents to ensure their son/daughter is aware of the information below:
Inion Sharkey	All information will be assigned through email and Twitter	Work is assigned to each class group on the day of their scheduled class. They should check emails for material that day. Additional important links will be sent out as the need arises - for example when SUSI opens, a link will be sent through email. It will also be sent on Twitter with CNM tagged in the link.	Students are encouraged to email all career related queries to dsharkey.CNM@lmetb.ie. Many students have already done so.
Inion A Brady	OneNote & school email & PowerPoint resources designed specifically for each year group and classes for Art & Irish 1N	Twice per week every student of mine for Art & Irish is to update me with their progress and learning.	Parents please be aware that ALL students have been set more than adequate amounts of work now and measures are in place to ensure your child's learning remains at the forefront. Please encourage your son/daughter to complete the work set and reply via methods requested as per subject teacher for deadline.
Inion Boyd	Microsoft Teams	My students should check their Microsoft Team's account three to four times a week as I will be updating work and notes frequently.	A student should contact me via email or Microsoft Teams if they have any issue with the work. I will respond to them as quick as I can.
Inion Breen	Schoology and Outlook email	Everyday they are timetabled for subject- more specific information on work deadlines will be given through Schoology or email	All essential English course work is complete--focus for students will be on practicing exam answers and revision
Inion Buchanan	OneNote and Teams	I usually give work once a week (Wednesday/Thursday) to be completed for the following week.	Work is not often uploaded by students for correction, please monitor your son/daughter to ensure that this is done.
Inion Butler	Schoology, Microsoft Teams	I post an update on schoology twice a week with work assigned or notes to help students with work assigned. I then give feedback through asking students to upload photos of their work on schoology and I give feedback on schoology on these photos or hold live chat discussions on Microsoft Teams on a Friday when I have all work corrected.	When I post an update on schoology can you ask students to please like or comment on the update just to acknowledge the receipt of the work.
Inion Clarke	OneNote and Microsoft Teams	They will be contacted on the days I would teach them. I will contact them on teams in the morning to let them know an assignment has been uploaded to Teams where they should submit for me to correct when they're finished. All resources are available to them on OneNote.
Inion Derwin	OneNote and You Tube	At least 3 times per week for exam classes and once for others. Work will be given once at start of week and additional resources sent to help.	The course is continuing as normal. Sixth years have had a number of tutoring videos uploaded to YouTube. Exam questions and notes have been uploaded to One Note. Students have been emailed to be informed of this. Work was also highlighted via Twitter so no excuse for any student not to be learning and improving, it is down to engagement and doing the work. Third years have had interactive space resources and questions forwarded to them. These have videos embedded and notes included with study questions. All have work. I have been answering queries by students via email and here to help them.
Inion Dowling	Microsoft Teams	I set work for students to complete when I am timetabled to have them. I expect that work is submitted on that day or early the following day. Moving forward I hope to assign a weeks worth of work and have students upload it to Teams when they are finished.	No
Inion Duffy	OneNote	I am uploading work on the day that I would normally have the class but with 3rd and 6th year I am uploading work daily.	Please check OneNote everyday and 3rd year students need to get a copy of the sample exams papers for Irish from Edco
Inion Garrett	OneNote presently with a view to Teams/Zoom also	Daily Monday-Friday on school days	Use their initiative if they've spent 1 hour on each subject to move on and not spend more than 1 hour to avoid overwork.

6th and 3rd Year Groups Contingency Teaching Plans

Iníon Giles	OneNote and moving on to Microsoft Teams	Daily either on school email or OneNote	Maths course is covered. It is now up to them to let me know what topics they need revised by email
Iníon Glennon	Schoology for uploading work, Outlook for emails, and Microsoft Teams for voice chat.	I upload a weekly schedule of work every Sunday night due for the following Friday evening. I write out day by day what they should be doing, and it amounts to roughly the same as what we would do in typical class time	Please make sure students are checking Schoology for all updates. Everything is in the "updates" section and also in the Covid 19 Closure folder in materials.
Iníon Gorman	OneNote & Microsoft Teams	I am emailing them everyday I have them with work. (Mon, Tues & Friday) I used Teams with them for a call today so I aim to start using this more in the next few days.	I have set up a YouTube channel showing worked questions. Links to these questions can be found in emails and also on OneNote
Iníon Hession	OneNote, Microsoft Teams, Zoom and emails	I expect students to do work when I have them (3 lessons JC Geo, 5 lessons JC maths and 6 lessons LC maths). I have all work on teams and OneNote and I have sent scheduled meetings for Zoom so students should be aware of all work and meetings. On every Onenote, I have made a timetable so students are aware of the work has to be completed each day and have the links they need for all work. I am available over email and teams for students if they need any extra support.	Any additional work completed (exam questions etc) can be sent to be and I will mark and give feedback on all work.
Iníon Jones	Schoology, Microsoft Teams, OneNote	Twice weekly. Students are assigned work and given due dates. Students should check their VLE regularly to ensure they are up to date with all assignments/notes available to them.	Leaving Certificate English via Schoology and Teams. Each week the class will receive a single assignment in the form of an exam question. This is not the limit of the work they should be doing. On Schoology there are a vast amount of resources available to engage in independent study. Junior Certificate English via Schoology- Twice weekly assignments/revision will be posted. They must be submitted via Schoology. All learning content/notes/guidelines needed will be available to them.
Iníon Kelly	OneNote, Schoology and Microsoft Teams (only for 6th years)	3rd - twice a week. 6th- 4 times a week
Iníon Keogh	Schoology, OneNote, Microsoft Teams	To be engaged and present during class time. I issue students with a reading task, written task and homework on the days we have class. Their work is issued on teams.	Students must be engaged and on task. This eliminates anyone falling behind with regards to content.
Iníon Kerr	School email, Schoology, Microsoft Teams	Work will be given only on the days they have class. I will be looking at Microsoft Teams daily for students that are unsure of the work and will be answering questions through email or Microsoft Teams.
Iníon Mc Mahon	Schoology, school email and Zoom	I set them work every second day on schoology, then we correct together over Zoom and I offer further guidance for next piece of work. We are doing exam papers.
Iníon Mc Quillan	OneNote and school email	They will receive work each day we would have our lesson in school. They will get an email reminding them that their work is on OneNote before the lesson starts. They are then expected to have this work uploaded before the start of their next lesson.	It is important that work is being submitted for each lesson before the start of their next lesson so that students have a consistent structure and do not fall behind.
Iníon McDonogh	Schoology and school email	New assignments and deadlines are set on Wednesday and Friday. Students are welcome to communicate with me throughout the week via Schoology or email.	If for some reason a student cannot make a deadline, please contact me to let me know.
Iníon Murphy	Schoology, voice notes, Zoom	Class times as per timetable	Please ensure that all students check schoology updates in line with class timetable.
Iníon Ní Cheallacháin	Schoology and school email	Work has been set on a weekly basis based on the amount of classes that group would have had, students can complete work on a daily basis or complete work in a block.	To contact me via email if there are any issues/concerns anything I can help with or clarify, all students were given my email prior to school closures

6th and 3rd Year Groups Contingency Teaching Plans

Iníon Ní Mhíoch	Schoology and school email	Check work daily for submissions and corrections, corrections takes 3 evenings, I set work every three days	To email if unsure of a question or task,
Iníon Ní Shé	Schoology	I have contacted each of my classes everyday they are scheduled to have a Irish with me	I have been using Schoology all along and answering to emails and have been taking into account the students who have not been sending on assigned work. I may change to other Visual Learning Environments in the future but all students know and have access to both my email and Schoology.
Iníon NicEoin	Schoology, school email and Zoom	Online class (through Zoom) everyday (at their scheduled Maths time) with both my JC & LC Maths classes since last Wednesday. They get work to do in Maths after all classes	I have had an online class (using Zoom) everyday (at their scheduled Maths time) with both my JC & LC Maths classes since last Wednesday 18th March and work has been set everyday since Thursday 12th March. Work/Notes/Exercises from the online classes has been put on Schoology everyday. In my capacity as 6th Year Ceannaire, I have contacted various students (via email) throughout my yeargroup, who are not engaging with work set by other teachers
Iníon O'Donnell	OneNote, Kahoot	3rd year and 6th year Maths students are being emailed every morning with work for that day. All work is being shared on OneNote. Instruction being sent daily on how to upload work to OneNote for correction. 6th Year Geography students are being emailed - Mon,Tues & Fri, Powerpoints, Notes, Quizes shared on OneNote.	Students to be encouraged to spend at least 30mins per day focusing on Maths work and to upload their work to OneNote for correction.
Iníon Raza	Schoology, OneNote and school email	I only contact them once a week via email and Schoology	Coding and DML has no exam as it is a short course, although before their State Exam they must complete their CBA (classroom based assesment). I am working with them on Schoology.
Iníon Richardson	OneNote and zoom - work assigned via email	3rd years will have work twice per week (Wednesday and Friday) and I am doing a zoom session on Fridays. 6th years will have work 3 to 4 times per week (normal class periods) with 1-2 zoom sessions per week (Wednesday and Friday)	I also upload tests/quizzes for 3rd years after finishing a topic. For 6th year once the course content is finished I will be doing revision sessions based on what topics students want covered.
Iníon Smith	OneNote and school email	Contacting students Twice a week- written work given once a week
Iníon Uí Ruairc	OneNote, Zoom and school email.	Zoom 4 times per week at usual classtime, e-mail those same days for Zoom code/reminders and any follow-up.	Students are set homework following each lesson and should email this to me as soon as possible.
Iníon Woods	Schoology	Each day that they would normally have Biology	Students have an abundance of revision activities on schoology in the 'revision' folder, along with videos which are regularly updated on the Biology Bugbears YouTube channel. They should continue to use the exam papers to practice exam style questions.
Máistir Behan	Emailing- pbehan.cnm@lmetb.ie with Powerpoint Presentation & Templates to Edit	I expect 6th year LCA students to complete their assigned work and to check their emails at least twice a week with a reply to emails they receive and for their completed work sent back to Máistir Behan.	For all 6th year LCA students to have the Educational Toy Template in PowerPoint fully edited and emailed back to Máistir Behan by the 01/04/20 (this is part of their final grade and accounts for 40% of their overall grade for Graphics & Construction Studies). The assignment was discussed in detail in class and emailed to all students on the 12/03/20. An online (PowerPoint) module will be emailed to all LCA students on the 02/04/20 that should be fully completed and emailed back to Máistir Behan on or before the 17/04/20.
Máistir Burke	With my 3rd years and 6th years I am using Schoology. With my 3rd years I am teaching the lessons through recorded PPTs. For both groups all questions are communicated directly by email and all work sent on to me to review by email also.	Third years contacted every Monday, Wednesday and Friday - they need to check Schoology on each of those days for the details of the work assigned. For 6th years they are contacted every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday with all work, details and resources uploaded to Schoology.	The importance of working on the exam papers. On the off chance that students are finished the work that they take part of the exam papers and try a question or section. They can forward any of this extra work to me also to correct/give feedback on.
Máistir Byrne	Zoom but moving to Teams, YouTube tutorials and continuing to use OneNote	I'm sticking to normal class times as per normal timetable	Some Exam style questions will be answered on video and posted on CNM technology department YouTube channel Regularly

6th and 3rd Year Groups Contingency Teaching Plans

Máistir Dunne	Primarily OneNote and Teams, communication with instructions has been sent by email to all classes.	Work is set each time they have a timetabled lesson. Everyday for LC, 3 times per week for JC, as timetabled for other years.	Students must use allocated school email. Please contact school sooner rather than later if there are issues with log in details etc. 'live' lessons such as Teams/Zoom take place (where relevant) at the time students are normally timetabled for that lesson. Students should be available and online at the appropriate time. New work is set each time on OneNote. Students upload a photo of their completed work to OneNote. When there is a live lesson students receive an email inviting them to join the lesson.
Máistir Gillic	One Note, Teams, Zoom, Youtube channel	Students will receive an email on Saturday about the work they will be given for the week. The submission for their work is on the Friday of that week at 18:00. I allow students to manage their own time. The only other time students hear from me is on the Thursday of that week here I host a webinar day for my class groups. I send out an email on the day before to remind students of their class time slot.	Students can avail of the webinar day to ask questions on areas or topics they may be having difficulty with. I am currently simplifying long power point slides into exam focused A3 sheets to reduce the amount of reading the students have to do. This allows them more time to answer exam question. I am also making drawing videos and posting them onto the departments Youtube channel which I have been doing for the previous two years. This allows students to draw with me at their own pace using their I pads.
Máistir Halpin	OneNote and school email	Check email and OneNote daily. Assignments will be given for students to complete once/twice a week. Students then submit work to teacher via email/OneNote	If you have any queries contact myself.
Máistir Horan	Schoology, Zoom, school email	Since Friday 13 March I have hosted live-streamed History classes for both third and sixth years through the Zoom app. For my two sixth year classes, this has amounted to five sessions per week, usually of 1 hour duration per live-stream (i.e. they were getting approx. 5 hours p/week, rather than the 3.3 hours in a normal school week). For my 3rd years class, I gave three live-streamed classes p/week of approx 1 hour duration per class (rather than the two classes of 40 minutes p/week I am timetabled in a normal school week). I have told the classes that as and from this week (23 March) I will be doing live-streamed classes on Zoom following regular school timetable. I have communicated this and other info on Schoology on a daily basis since March 13. Students need to check Schoology before each timetabled class for the password to join the live-stream on Zoom. For both sixth year classes, I have reminded them of the deadline (20 March) I had previously set for the submission of their RSR 3rd draft, and for that to be emailed to me using my school email address.	At this stage of 3rd year and (particularly) 6th year, my role is to provide context and guidance in course material, and advice in the practice of answering exam questions. What I am doing on the live-stream is to all intents and purposes the same as what I would be doing if we were in school. It is therefore critical to your son/daughter's progress that they engage with me through Schoology and Zoom to ensure they continue to make progress in History and ultimately, get the result their years of work to this point deserves. This is not a holiday from school, it is a different way of engaging in teaching and learning- and in my experience with the students who have engaged with it thus far, it is no less effective than if students were sitting in classrooms in school. If you have any questions or queries, you can contact me on Schoology or through email.
Máistir Kerley	Schoology, OneNote	Students shall receive work three times a week. Each time new work is set I email students directly and it is available on two platforms in case students cannot access their OneNote. Exam Questions and Essays are set every week. I have provided powerpoints with notes and audio recordings to cover our new topic soil. I have also provided scans of the Exam Skills Essay book to give students additional notes for essay writing. I am keeping records of who has and hasn't completed work. I have made it very clear that I expect all students to complete all work set.	Please check students one note and ensure they are completing work that is set for them. Contact me if they have any concerns.
Máistir Lanigan	OneNote and Schoology	Receive work 2/3 times per week depending on if exam classes. Leaving cert classes also following a study plan on top of this.	For 5th and 6th year students I'm posting regular tutorials to OneNote and marking homework/ replying to email queries. 1st and 3rd years have revision work set that must be submitted at regular intervals and I'm regularly replying to email queries.
Máistir Murtagh	Schoology (There is a white folder called 'School Closure' for instructions/YouTube videos/sample work). Zoom for teaching during timetabled lessons. Main platform for all notes and resources is www.colaistenamibusiness.com . Also 'Sporcle' for key word quizzes.	I am teaching lessons via timetable and communicate directly here, all work is also posted in the 'School Closure' section on Schoology. Students are also encouraged to email queries/sample work outside of timetable lessons.	I have provided a list of sample exam papers and solutions on Schoology that students have access to as key parts to their study.

6th and 3rd Year Groups Contingency Teaching Plans

Máistir Rayel	OneNote	3rd Year Tech Graphics and Technology: I set out work for students at the start of the week. This is emailed to every student and is also on their OneNote. I expect students to complete this work during the week and upload it to OneNote, a picture from their Ipads will suffice. A reminder email is sent towards the end of the week.	Make sure students checks their emails and OneNote for the work. Upload pictures of the work to OneNote. Get any materials that may be required; set squares, compass, paper.
Máistir Tynan	Schoology, OneNote, school email and Zoom	Work is being given daily and that online classes will happen as per student timetable.	If students have connection difficulties in the access to OneNote, they should email me and I will provide work via email
